In particular, the research fellow will be subject to the following conditions:

- for his/her research activity, he/she shall not be allowed to receive other incomes than those indicated in this call;
- he/she shall devote him/herself full-time to the research program of this call unless there are duly justified reasons connected to personal or family circumstances.

The research fellowship awarded as a result of this call for applications is included in the category of short-term contracts.

With regard to taxation, the provisions that apply are those set forth in article 4 of Italian Law no. 476 issued on 13 August 1984. With regard to welfare purposes, the applicable provisions are those in article 2, paragraphs 26 and on, of Italian Law no. 335 issued on 8 August 1995, and subsequent amendments. With regard to mandatory maternity leave, the applicable provisions are those in the decree of the Minister for work and social welfare issued on 12 July 2007, published in the Official Gazette issue no. 247 of 23 October 2007. During the period of compulsory maternity leave, the amount paid by INPS (Istituto Nazionale Previdenza Sociale) under article 5 of the aforementioned Decree of 12 July 2007 is integrated by Politecnico di Milano up to the full amount of the research grant.

EU citizens who will not be able to produce the S1 Health Form in their country, shall ask directly the National Health Service offices (ASL) for instructions regarding the subscription upon payment to the National Health Service.

Article 14

With reference to the above subject, “family” is defined as persons linked to the applicant by (i) marriage, or (ii) a relationship with equivalent status to a marriage recognised by the Italian legislation or of the nationality of the candidate; or (iii) dependent children who are actually being maintained by the applicant. In case this contribution is provided, it will be subject to deductions.

Article 15

Employees from public and private companies, including those with short-term or part-time contracts, cannot be the recipients of a temporary research fellowship.

This temporary research fellowship cannot be awarded to people enrolled in a laurea (equivalent of Bachelor of Science), laurea specialistica or magistrale (equivalent to Master of Science), PhD students with a scholarship, or students enrolled in medical specialisation courses, in Italy or abroad. The award of the research grant requires placement on unpaid leave for employees in service in public administrations other than those mentioned in paragraph 5 of this article.

Exclusion from participation in the selection applies in the case of marriage, kinship or affinity up to and including the fourth degree, or same-sex registered partnership (as per art. 1 of Law No. 76 of 20.05.2016), or cohabiting couple (as per art. 1, paragraphs 37 et seq. of Law No. 76 of 20.05.2016) with:

Graduates who cannot carry out the research activity for the entire period stated in article 1 of the call for applications because the temporal limits set forth in art. 22, third paragraph or ninth paragraph of Italian law 240/2010, as completed by art. 6, paragraph 2bis of Italian Legislative Decree 192/2014, are exceeded, cannot take part in the selection.

Temporary research fellowships cannot be awarded to university long-term employees, employees of public bodies and institutes for research and experimentation, of the Italian National Agency for New technologies, energy and sustainable economic development (ENEA), of the Italian Space Agency (ASI) and of the institutes whose scientific specialisation diploma has been considered equivalent to a PhD pursuant to art.74, fourth paragraph of Italian D.P.R. no. 382, issued on 11 July 1980.

Research fellows can perform professional activities and enter contracts that can be included in the self-employment category, on condition that these activities do not interfere with the successful execution of the research activities subject of this contract. The written authorisation of the Head of the Department/Campus (who must consult the Scientific Supervisor) is required. These activities are incompatible with a temporary research fellowship if the above mentioned authorisation is not given.

A temporary research fellow cannot carry out activities that can lead to a conflict of interest with the activities of the Politecnico di Milano.

The temporary research fellowship is not compatible with other research fellowships and with other scholarships, except for those awarded by national or foreign institutions for the purpose of integrating the research activities with stays abroad.

Research fellows can attend doctoral programmes, including courses as extra and without doctoral grant, on condition that the admission exam is passed.

ANNEX TO THE CALL FOR APPLICATIONS FOR THE AWARD OF TEMPORARY RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS FOR RESEARCH ACTIVITIES (issued pursuant to the "Regulations for the award of temporary research fellowships for research activities in independently funded research programmes" issued with Rectoral Decree no. 667/AG (28 February 2011), as modified with R.D. no. 3398/AG (29 July 2016).

TITLE OF THE RESEARCH "Innovative mechanical technologies for sewage sludge dewatering supported by an electric field. Design and scale-up of the apparatus"

PRESUMED DATE FOR STARTING ACTIVITIES 01/04/2017

STARTING PROCESS AND EXECUTION OF THE RESEARCH PROGRAMME (please provide a list of scheduled phases and a time schedule)

The recruited researcher, with a background in Engineering will develop his/her research program on the up-scaling (from pilot to full scale applications) of an industrial process for dewatering sewage sludge by means of an electro-osmotic rotary screw press. The research program will be carried out at the Laboratory of Industrial Chemical Processes (prof. P. Gronchi, dept. CMIC), and at the Laboratory of Sanitary-Environmental Engineering (prof. R. Canziani, dept. DICA). The researcher will carry out different experimental tests. First of all, he will join the research group in analyzing the chemical-physical properties of sludge from different plants treating urban and industrial wastewater, at different organic and water content. Electro-osmotic dewaterability will be evaluated by means of different methods (capillary suction time, filtration tests, zeta potential measurements), with and without electric field. The hydrophilic/hydrophobic properties of different types of sludge and their behavior in contact with different materials and surface coatings will also be evaluated. Secondly he will perform dewaterability tests with a lab-scale prototype under different operating conditions (steady or intermittent applied electric field at different voltages, different time durations) and different sludge samples. Third, he will also perform tests on different materials and coatings to minimize anode corrosion. Finally, he will participate in the design of a prototype of an electro-osmotic dewatering rotating screw press and will get the required data to obtain a detailed LCA study.

ACTIVITIES THE TEMPORARY RESEARCH FELLOW WILL PERFORM, POSSIBLE OBLIGATIONS AND TERMS

The recruited researcher will perform laboratory tests for the characterization of the sludge useful for the purposes of the mechanical dewatering, in the presence and in the absence of electric fields. In particular, it will perform different tests such as Capillary Suction Time, filterability, Zeta potential measurements, and analysis for the characterization of the properties of hydrophilicity and hydrophobicity of different types of sludge in contact with different materials and surface coatings.

Moreover, he will perform tests for the evaluation of corrosion resistance to operational chemical working conditions and wear. For this purpose, he will perform experimental tests on different materials and surface coatings and possibly develop methodological innovations for the application at an industrial scale. Finally, he will participate actively in the design of the prototype and in the experimental evaluation of the operating variables that are necessary for a full technical and economic evaluation of the process at industrial scale, including also a thorough and detailed LCA. The work will end after sixteen months' service. The holder of the research grant is required to perform the tests in the Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering, Laboratory of Environmental Engineering, and at the Department of Chemistry, Materials and Chemical Engineering, "G. Natta " laboratory of Industrial Chemical Processes.

The holder of the research grant is obliged to cooperate in the preparation of the European project and expects to submit a final written report on the research activities and results achieved under the project.

At least 30 days before the end of the contract, the research fellow must present a written report on the research activities carried out and on the results achieved within the scope of the project.
